ST. ANDREW'S SCOTS SCHOOL.

THE Directors of this School beg respectfully to intimate to Parents and Guardians in Sydney, that Mr. Balmain of the University of Glasgow, as likewise a regularly trained Diplomatic Teacher from the Normal Institution of that city, will re-open classes in the Hall of St. Andrew's Scots School, Bathurst-street, on Monday the 3rd of January, 1848, when he will be happy to receive children, and meet applications from the hours of nine o'clock in the morning till four in the afternoon.

The system of tuition to be pursued in this school will be the same as that followed in the Normal Institution of Glasgow Educational Society; along with Stow's Bible and Moral Training, Wilderspin's Physical Training, and the Pestalozzian Lessons on Objects; combined with the best part of Wood's, or the Edinburgh Sessional School Intellectual System, and Bell's, or the Monitorial System.

Convinced of the success that must necessarily ensue from the proper development of a system, which, for simplicity and efficiency, is unrivalled; and which has been found the most excellent means, yet devised, for training up the child morally, intellectually, and physically, for filling that station in life he may be destined to occupy, and trusting that the usual success will attend the labours of the teacher that has hitherto marked him as a master of his profession, the Directors heartily recommend it to the public.

Public annual examination to be held, and fees required in advance.

C. Gordon, Esq., John Buckland, Esq., Captain Maclean, of Hyde Park Barracks, &c., &c., from all of whom he has flattering testimonials of their approbation of his mode of tuition, and of the improvement which their children made under his care; and also, that pursuant to advertisement a public examination of his pupils was recently held, which afforded to all families present much satisfaction. MR. J. The mineral being composed of indestructible fossils, never change their colour or become offensive to the wearer. Mr. E. cautions the public generally to observe that artificial teeth made of any other material, such as bone or natural teeth, break and decompose. Charges strictly moderate. Specific for the tooth ache.—The most valuable remedy ever discovered in this colony for the tooth ache is undoubtedly this tincture, prepared solely by Mr. J. Emanuel, No. 346, Castlereagh-street North. It is sold in bottles at 2s. 6d. per bottle; large size bottles for families residing in the interior, five shillings per bottle. It is only necessary to apply one drop of this tincture on a small piece of prepared wool, into the cavity of the affected tooth, and the pain will be instantly removed. Soothing syrup for infants teething; one or two drops rubbed well on the gums with the finger, will relieve the irritation consequently arising from first dentition; sold in bottles at 2s. 6d. per bottle. THE GREATEST CURES OF ANY MEDICINE IN THE GLOBE. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

A LOCAL CURE OF FITS.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Henry Whiting, Boot and Shoemaker, Red Bank, Stonequarry, February, 1847.

"SIR,—I have for many years past been troubled with the falling sickness, frequently dropping down at my work or in the street, and could get no relief from any one until I tried Holloway's Pills, and now by the use of them I am completely cured."

"To Mr. J. K. HEYDON."

N.B.—The communication containing the above was received by the wholesale agent at the date given, and was not then published, because the stock of medicines was exhausted; but the extract is now advertised by request, many of Mr. Whiting's neighbours having advised that the public should be made aware of such instances of the wonderful effects of Holloway's medicines. The wholesale agent is further instructed to say, that Mr. Whiting's cure has been completely tested by time, as he has continued in the enjoyment of perfect health ever since.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. T. H. Mate, Storekeeper, Umutbee, Gundagai, October 24, 1847.

"To Mr. Heydon.—Sir, when I was in Sydney last, I bought a few boxes of Holloway's Pills and Ointment, and brought them up to this district; and I learn that their effects have been most wonderfully curative, inasmuch that I am daily asked for them, and have now a letter before me that I received from a settler a short distance from this, who states that the pills and ointment that I sent him (Holloway's) have performed wonders with one of his servants who was he says rotten above ground. So great and increasing is the faith in this medicine that I have decided upon sending to you direct for a supply. * * * If you will state the terms of an agency I will apply to you for it, if they suit me, as I feel sure of being able to sell large quantities of the medicines."

The Wholesale Agent begs to state that he has become aware of the many extraordinary cures performed by Professor Holloway's medicines; but he feels of course that he is not at liberty to publish the cases except at the wish of the parties themselves.

A CURE OF A DREADFUL AND DANGEROUS CASE OF ERYSIPELAS.

In the following remarkable case the Lady had been both deaf and blind from the virulence of the complaint.—February 10th, 1847.

Mrs. Gibbons, of Tivoli Place, Cheltenham, was for two years so dreadfully afflicted with Erysipelas that she became (however extraordinary it may appear) both blind and deaf, from the severity of the disease, and during the whole of the time she was attended by several of the most eminent medical men in Cheltenham, without receiving any benefit whatever, and, as a last resource, she tried Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which in two months perfectly cured the dreadful complaint, and likewise restored her to health.

Mrs. Stoyle, the very respectable landlady of the Newmarket Inn, Cheltenham, can bear witness to this cure. It can also be authenticated at the Stationer's, No. 10, Arcade, High-street, Cheltenham.

THIS WONDERFUL MEDICINE CAN BE RECOMMENDED, WITH THE GREATEST CONFIDENCE, FOR ANY OF THE FOLLOWING DISEASES:—

Ague	Dropsy
Asthma	Dysentery
Bilious Complaints	Erysipelas
Blotches on the Skin	Female Irregularities
Bowel Complaints	Fevers of all kinds

VESSELS FOR LONDON.—The Penyard Park will have the whole of her wool stowed this evening, and having been appointed the Post Office Packet for this month, will sail positively on Friday next. The Agincourt will sail to-morrow week. The Trafalgar, Fama, Hamlet, Johnstone, Thomas Lowry, Lord Auckland, and St. George, are all rapidly filling up. The Walmer Castle will commence taking in wool between decks on Monday next, and on the discharge of her inward cargo will take on board as dead weight 90 tons of the copper ore brought from Adelaide by the Juno; the remaining forty-four tons will be shipped in the Thomas Lowry. The Louisa will commence loading on Tuesday next, taking on board as dead weight the oil from the whaling barque Cammore. The King William will also commence loading for London, as soon as her inward cargo is discharged.

The Brougham has obtained 300 barrels sperm oil since leaving Sydney on the 23rd June, 1846. It will be remembered that a few months after she left this port, the crew, with the exception of the officers, two seamen, and two apprentices, mutinied, which compelled the captain to proceed to Hongkong; he there obtained a new crew of Spanish and Portuguese men, and resumed his voyage on the 4th November, 1846; since which nearly the whole of the oil now on board has been taken. Throughout her voyage, however, nothing but misfortunes seem to have befallen her. On the 31st May last, during a heavy gale off the coast of New Ireland, the ship running under bare poles, she carried away her fore-topmast, jib-boom, main-royal-mast and yards; and a second sea striking her, carried away the waist-boat and davits. The gale lasted ten hours, during which time a heavy sea was running from all quarters. She touched at New Ireland in September last to wood and water, and reports the schooner Edward, Truscott, of Sydney, as having put in there for the same purpose on the 18th of that month with 100 barrels sperm oil, hence the 1st June last; and on the 22nd September, the brig Genii, Oliver, of Sydney, with 570 barrels sperm oil, hence the 24th March. The Brougham has put into this port to recruit, being short of stores.

The steamer Juno will not leave Sydney for the southern provinces until Saturday next. She proceeds to Newcastle for her coals to-morrow.

THE Sydney Morning Herald.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1848.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

NEW YEAR'S DAY.

ACCORDING to established usage, the Sydney Morning Herald wishes to all its friends a Happy New Year. May they prosper in body, mind, and estate! May they have health, peace, and money in both pockets! May they see their country flourish in every department of her interests, moral, political, agricultural, pastoral, commercial!

Nor must we forget to thank them for the past. We have received from them a generous support. Our exertions to please, instruct, and serve them, have been liberally rewarded. We have done our best to earn their good-will; and they have given substantial proofs that our endeavour has not been unsuccessful. Subscribers, Advertisers, Correspondents, Readers—we offer to them all our most grateful acknowledgments. Their past kindness has laid us under additional obligations to future diligence. We trust those obligations will not be forgotten—that diligence will not be relaxed. Having found Mr. PUBLIC so good a master, we shall continue to labour in his cause with glad hearts.

It is our custom at this season to glance at the principal events of the Old Year, and to speculate on those of the New.

The year 1847, however, was so barren of notable occurrences of a public nature, that our present retrospect must necessarily be rapid and superficial. It was a year of noiseless industry, and of general well-doing. The principal checks to the even tenor of its way, were the drought and the influenza. The latter had passed away before the year closed: its ravages had been severe, and nearly co-extensive with the whole population, but, through the merciful providence of GOD, were not attended with many fatal results. The drought has been mitigated by occasional showers, but in this part of the colony its withering influences are still felt. Although there are districts, and very broad ones, to which it has not extended, there can be no doubt that it has on the whole told unfavourably upon the harvest. Our agricultural resources, however, now spread over so wide and varied a territory, and over so many adjacent colonies, that we have no apprehensions of a scarcity of bread.

The pastoral districts have in general been so highly favoured with due alternations of wet and dry weather, that it is believed the wool-clip of 1847 will be found to have far surpassed, both in quantity and in quality, every preceding year in our history. This happy circumstance is the more gladdening from the good accounts just received of the state of the wool-market in England.

The political affairs of 1847, like its industrial, glided along without excitement. Our new GOVERNOR closed his first year of office, as he began it, with a perceptible desire to do his duty, and to do it to the satisfaction of all classes. The hopes indulged on his accession to the Government have in no way been disappointed. If the approbation of the public is not expressed in loud applauses, it is shown by the more solid testimony of general contentment.

The past year closed the first quinquennial term of our Colonial Parliament. Its last session was its quietest. It had then nothing to fret its temper. It worked harmoniously with the Executive. And it closed its doors, and practically gave up its trust, at the moment when candid people had made up their minds that the first elective Council, take it for all in all, had done credit to itself and to the colony, and was not likely to be succeeded by a better.

And now, we know not what more we can say about the year 1847. So let us for once push our new year's retrospect back to a more distant epoch. This is the sixteenth New Year's Day seen by the Sydney Herald, our journal having made its first new year's bow to the colonists on the 1st January, 1832, though it had then been in existence about nine months. Under the lack of materials in the last of these sixteen years, let us amuse ourselves by recalling the image of the first, and by measuring some of the changes which have been wrought in the interval.

In the year 1831, when this journal entered the world, the population of the colony was 50,000 souls: it is now 200,000, or just four-fold. There were born in that year 900 infant Australians: the infant Australians now born in a year are about 9000, or just ten-fold. The exports of that year were valued at £320,000: their annual value is now about £1,500,000, or, an approximation to five-fold. The wool exported in that year was 1,400,000 lbs.: its annual export is now about 17,000,000 lbs., or more than twelve-fold. The number of vessels entered inwards and outwards that year was 320: the annual entry is now about 1600, or just five-fold; their united tonnage being then 69,000, and now 290,000. The property vended in that year by public auction was valued at £39,000: the annual value now is about £400,000. The revenue of that year was £120,000: it is now, allowing for fluctuations, £400,000. Up to the beginning of that year, no steamboat had ever paddled its way to the Australian shores: steamers are now paddling every day and every hour, and in every direction, up our rivers, along the entire line of our coasts, and from colony to colony. And, by way of effective finale to this retrospective drama, let us remember that in that year we were a penal colony, our society riven into angry factions: we have now completed the seventh year of our deliverance from that galling yoke, and from those wretched strifes.

Such are some of the great changes which sixteen years have witnessed in this young and enterprising colony. What changes may we anticipate for the year upon which we this day enter? We shall not speculate on more than two, one of them a very painful, the other a very pleasing change. We are threatened with a New Constitution, which has lately occupied our very serious attention. The Minister has signified his intention to bring it forward early in the Parliamentary session of the present year; so that if this intention be carried out without modification, we shall have the painful duty of announcing to our readers, before the 31st day of December next, that at the instance of a Minister who really wished us well, the Imperial Legislature has deprived us of one of the most valuable of our birthrights as British subjects. Let the colonists do their best to avert the blow.

The change to which we must all look forward with delight, is the establishment of steam-navigation between the shores of England and those of Australia. This long-desired communication will, there is every reason to hope, be realised in the present year, and stamp 1848 with lasting importance in Australian annals. Nor is it improbable that it will be realised within the next three months, for we are led by late advices to believe that an experimental steam-trip, by the northern route, via Singapore, will be started from England during this present month of January. The effect of this vast improvement in our means of communication with the Old World will be, to reduce the distance between Sydney and London by at least one-half.

We have now paid our New Year's respects to our worthy friends, and have only to add, that we beg their acceptance, as a small but useful New Year's Gift, of the accompanying Sheet Almanac.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

CITY COUNCIL.

FRIDAY.

PRESENT:—The Right Worshipful the Mayor in the chair; Aldermen Allen, Broughton, Thurlow, Fisher, Little, and Wilshire; Councillors Hyndes, Board, Henderson, Neale, Driver, Brown, Moore, Jenkins, Hill, Paton, Ryan, May, Egan, Thornton, Wilkie, Titterton, and Moir.

CLERK OF THE MARKETS.

Alderman THURLOW moved that the election of a clerk for the George-street Markets take precedence of the other business on the paper.

Mr. HYNDES suggested whether it would not be proper to reinstate the old clerk, seeing that he was not dismissed for any fault, but simply because the office was abolished—the more especially as he had made application for re-employment in that capacity.

Mr. EGAN moved that the salary to be given to the Clerk of the Market should be determined before proceeding to the election of any individual: it might happen that the successful candidate would not consider the office worth acceptance on becoming acquainted with the amount of salary the Council proposed to give.

Mr. HILL seconded the motion.

Mr. TITTERTON said, he conceived that the first question was, whether any good would result from the employment of such an officer. He thought not; and the resolution in pursuance of which this business was put upon the paper by no means settled the point, for it merely declared that no appointment should be made until the 1st January. And as the 1st January had not yet arrived, he contended the Council could not proceed to the election to-day, unless the previous resolution were rescinded, of which they had had no notice, and which could not therefore be rescinded to-day. Whenever the business should come on he hoped that the amount of remuneration to be given would precede the election.

Alderman ALLEN supported Mr. Titterton's view of the matter; so also did

Alderman THURLOW, who therefore begged to withdraw his motion.

The question being referred to the Mayor for his decision, he ruled that the motion was out of order, and could not be put to-day.

THE FOUNTAIN IN PITT-STREET.

The next order of the day was, to consider the report of the Water Committee recommending the removal of the water fountain at the corner of Pitt and Park streets to the corner of Castlereagh and Bathurst streets, and the petition from 300 citizens of Macquarie Ward against its removal. The Committee recommended its removal on the ground of its being more required in the situation they pointed out than where it was at present, on account of the large majority of the inhabitants in that neighbourhood being of a class who could not be expected to have the water laid on to their residences, and the reverse being the fact as regarded the residents in the vicinity of the fountain as at present situated.

Alderman ALLEN moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by Mr. HYNDES.

Alderman Thurlow, Little, and Fisher supported the prayer of the petitioners; so also did Messrs. Hill and Brown. Alderman Broughton, and Messrs. Driver and Titterton supported the report of the Committee.

The MAYOR put the motion to the Council, and on a show of hands declared it carried.

A division was called for, when there appeared 9 for and 8 against the adoption of the report. A member called upon the Mayor to vote, when his Worship voted in favour of the report, and declared the motion to be carried. At that instant Mr. Egan, (who had previously been in the Council Chamber, but had left), entered the Council—and presently afterwards Alderman Wilshire. Mr. Egan insisted upon having his name taken down in the division against the motion, the Town Clerk not having completed the list when he entered the chamber, in which view he was supported by Aldermen Thurlow, Fisher, and Wilshire; opposed by Aldermen Allen, and Little, and several other members. The discussion, which had not previously been of the most orderly description, now became outrageously indecent. To repeat the sayings of five or six members speaking simultaneously—not to the chairman—but to each other—is beyond our reporter's ability; and no adequate idea can be conveyed by any report of the disorder which prevailed.

The MAYOR decided that Mr. Egan's name could not be taken down, and directed the Town Clerk to make a memorandum of the circumstance in the minutes of the meeting.

THE SURVEYOR'S SURETIES.

The next business was to consider the letter of the City Surveyor, requesting that the amount of security in his bond might be reduced, in terms of a resolution of Council ordering that from that period the security to be taken of the Corporation officers should be to thrice instead of ten times the amount of their salary.

Mr. MOIR moved thereupon that the amount of security in the City Surveyor's bond to the Council be reduced from £3000 to £900, which was carried.

TOOTH'S BREWERY.

Mr. EGAN moved that the Report from the Water Committee on the subject of supplying water to the premises of Messrs. Tooth for the sum of £100 per annum be adopted.

Mr. NEALE seconded the motion.

The motion was supported by Alderman Thurlow and Messrs. Jenkins and Hyndes; opposed, on the ground of the charge being too high, by Aldermen Allen and Wilshire, Messrs. Brown, Hill, Moir, and May.

The Report was finally adopted, and at half-past seven o'clock the Council adjourned.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31.

IT is hereby ordered, that the present session of Oyer and Terminer and general Gaol Delivery be prolonged to to-morrow (Saturday), the 1st January and that the Court be at its rising this day, adjourned to to-morrow accordingly, at ten o'clock, when it will sit for the trial of such prisoners (if any) as shall then remain for trial, and to deliver the gaol.

And it is further ordered, that the Court do sit as in Banco on Tuesday next, at ten o'clock, for the delivery of the two now outstanding judgments.

(From late Australasian Papers.)

A BILL is before the Legislative Council of South Australia for securing to John Murray, city rate collector, a patent for a new and improved windlass.—Mr. Sergeantson, a settler on the Goulburn, was recently struck dead by lightning.—The services of a surveyor, to survey the bar at the Yarra, and at Geelong Harbour, are required by the Government at Port Phillip.—Great dissatisfaction is felt in Van Diemen's Land at a Dr. Bailey, a clergyman, convicted of forgery, and now only a third class probationer, being allowed to connect himself with the press in Van Diemen's Land.—A Mr. Alexander has been appointed coast waiter at Port Fairy, in the place of the late Mr. Chassels.—The 1st of December, the anniversary of the day on which the Dutch navigator Tasman discovered Van Diemen's Land, was ushered in by a merry peal from the new bells of Trinity Church.—A native of New Zealand, named Rangatapiripiri, was tried at the last Wellington Court for the murder of another native: the evidence was very slight, and he was acquitted.—Great difficulties are experienced by captains of vessels at Geelong from their men absconding, being tempted by the high rate of wages.—A fire brigade, consisting of twelve men, with a foreman and superintendent, are maintained by private subscription at Melbourne.

THE STEAM ROUTES.

THE following are the resolutions agreed to by the Legislative Council of South Australia respecting the proposed steam communication between these colonies and England. Not one word appears in these resolutions as to the passage back again. Can a steam-vessel with one horse-power to eight tons (the proposed rate) go west from Bass's Straits to the Cape during the winter months?—would her steam enable her to go a-head at all against the westerly gales?

That this Council are deeply sensible of the importance of establishing steam communication between Great Britain and the Australian Colonies, as calculated not merely to promote the rapid advancement and future prosperity of these portions of the British Empire, but to strengthen the bonds of union between them and the Parent State.

That this Council deem it unnecessary to enter into minute investigation of the details of the projected line of mail steam communication by Torres Straits and Sydney, because the difficulties and dangers of the navigation of Torres Straits are already sufficiently set forth in the several published sailing directions for those seas, and they do not recommend that line for adoption, because it affords little or no prospect of practical advantage to the colonists of South Australia, and because those advantages in the doubling of the population and capital of New South Wales, which the Hydrographer of the Admiralty anticipates, are not likely to be realised, inasmuch as the projectors do not themselves anticipate carrying passengers and goods to any extent, on account of the necessary high rates of freight and passage, wherefore this Council cannot hold out to the Indian and Australian Royal Mail Steam Packet Company any promise of pecuniary assistance towards that undertaking.

That this Council views most favourably the proposed scheme of Mr. C. D. Hays, for establishing a communication with the Australian colonies via the Cape of Good Hope, by means of powerful sailing vessels, furnished with auxiliary screw propellers, as promising great advantages to South Australia in a commercial as well as postal point of view, and that this Council gives preference to the route of the Cape, for the following reasons:—

1st. As opening up a new line of steam communication in the whole course of its route from England outwards, from which it conceives other claims on the benefits of steam communication may be met, and many collateral advantages arise in the way.

2nd. Because this route has more in connexion with markets, which, as the Cape—the eastern and western shores of South Africa—the Mauritius, &c., are habitually consumers of the products of the Australian Colonies, and whence those colonies import wine and fruits, and sugar, in return.

3rd. Because it conceives the ordinary demands for teas, coffee, rice, and other produce of the tropics, is sufficient to maintain the continuance of those limited exports which the marts of India and China appear to demand.

4th. Because in the event of war, its improved means of communication with the Home Government, would be less exposed to interruption, as not passing through the territories of any foreign nations; and on this head the Council cannot refrain from noting its belief in the incalculable importance which the establishment of this additional steam communication with the vast dependencies of the British Crown in this hemisphere must assume in the event of hostile interruptions, to the overland route—especially as many of these dependencies possess no local means of defence, and must entirely rely on succour by sea.

5th. Because it conceives, that with the attainment of these objects Sydney itself would secure a more speedy communication with Great Britain than the occasionally tardy navigation of Torres Straits can admit of, and that there would be combined numerous advantages to Van Diemen's Land and Port Phillip, arising out of the steam communication passing [illegible] so central a line to the Australasian settlements as Bass's Straits.

6th. Because steam by so direct a sea route can then be made available for the purpose of more easy introduction of labour into these colonies, on which depends their steady prosperity, as well as for the purposes of travellers, to a degree which is manifestly prohibited by the necessary expense of the overland communication; and any addition to the population by the proposed communication would be European instead of Asiatic.

That His Excellency be requested to suggest to the Secretary of State the expediency of directing the Colonial Emigration Commissioners to make arrangements, in the event of Mr. Hay's plan being adopted, to secure to the promoters of the scheme proposed by him, the passage of emigrants to this province for three years, to the extent of the means of transport.

That the sum of £750 should be given to each vessel only as arrived here within 85 days from leaving the last English port.

That His Excellency be requested to forward the resolutions, together with his Excellency's calculations, to the Secretary of State.

PRESERVATION OF WHEAT AND FLOUR.

(From Yesterday's Government Gazette.)

COLONIAL Secretary's Office, Sydney, 28th December, 1847. His Excellency the Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following particulars of an experiment which was undertaken by the Government for the preservation of wheat and flour:—

In the month of December, 1840, the Government caused a quantity of wheat and flour to be placed in iron tanks, of the description ordinarily used on board ship for holding water.

Each of these tanks was capable of holding about fifty-four bushels of grain. Two of the tanks were filled with wheat, and other two with flour, after having been first lime-washed inside, and rather thickly coated with paint outside.

After the tanks were filled, the lids of those containing the wheat were luted with white lead, for the purpose of excluding the air and the rain; but this precaution was not observed with respect to the tanks which contained flour.

Although at first partially protected from the alternations of the weather by a shed constructed of thin deal fittings, the tanks for some years past have had little or no shelter from wet, and more recently, they were wholly exposed, in consequence of the decay and removal of the shed.

On the 26th ultimo, the tanks were opened in the presence of a Board of Officers appointed for the purpose, when it was found that the wheat was quite uninjured, devoid of any peculiar smell, and equally as sound, sweet, and full in the grain, as when placed in the tanks.

To the flour, however, the rain had evidently obtained access, from the lids of the tanks not having been securely fastened, and consequently it proved, (in one tank especially,) to be much damaged; but on taking a sample from the centre, it appeared less deteriorated, though still retaining a sourness both in taste and smell.

So far, therefore, as respects the wheat, (and the failure in the case of the flour is clearly attributable to the want of proper precaution,) this experiment may be considered perfectly successful; and the success is the more satisfactory, inasmuch as the experiment was tried under very unfavourable circumstances, extending over a period of seven years.

The wheat was the produce of Chili, having been imported from Valparaiso by the ship Crusader, in November, 1840.

THE NEW YEAR.

Lone waves before the winter's blast,
The rolling years glide hurrying past;
And sweep before them in their sway
The giddy children of a day,
Who live, as though life were to be,
Upon the earth eternity.

Another year its course has run,
Another year its course begun;
And man and maid alike rejoice,
And music lifteth up its voice,
And sparkling wine-cups fail to rest
The throbbings of the anxious breast.

What madness! By a silver thread
Death's dart hangs quivering o'er our head;
Spring past, and summer swiftly gone,
Our winter months come stealing on,
With withered hopes, and pale disease,
When pleasure's self will fail to please.

Look back upon the year that's fled,
And you may number with the dead,
How many a healthful-seeming brow?
Ah, where that healthful seeming now:
Go ask the worm, and she may tell
Of those you lately loved so well.

Nor noble rank, nor cheek of bloom,
Will save their owners from the tomb;
The strongest, tenderest plants must fade;
And death, which strikes the hoary head,
Visits the noble, young, and fair,
And numbers these with things that were!

Another year—month—week—a day—
And clay may reunite with clay.
Who knows how soon may be his call
To leave wife, parents, children, all,
And launch upon the shoreless sea
Of fathomless Eternity!

Then why should thoughtless man appear
To hail with joy the dawning year?
Perchance before its next return
The grass may grow around his urn;
Perchance the dearest, best beloved,
May from his arms be first removed.

Sydney, 1st January, 1848.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.—His Excellency the Governor directs it to be notified, for general information, that a writ has been returned to His Excellency, certifying the return of John Moore Cole Airey, Esq., as a member to serve in the Legislative Council for the electoral district of Port Phillip, in the room of John Dunmore Lang, Esq., whose seat has become vacant, and during the remainder of the term of the continuance of the present Council.—Yesterday's Government Gazette.

PRICE OF WOOL.—We are glad to find that the favourable accounts recently received from England exhibited themselves in the spirited biddings at Mr. Mort's usual wool sale, held yesterday, when about one hundred bales of fair quality were disposed of at the following rates:—20 bales at 13½d. to 14½d.; 67 bales at 16d. to 16½d.; 4 bales at 10d. (clippings); 2 bales at 6½d. (in grease).

CITY PROPERTIES.—Pursuant to advertisement, Mr. Stubbs, the City Auctioneer, yesterday put up for sale the leases of the undermentioned Corporation properties for the year ending December 31, 1848. The following is the result: Markets—the George-street market to Mr. W. Ellison, for £1050; and the Corn and Hay market to Mr. B. M'Laughlan, for £310. Fountains—the fountain at Hyde Park, to Mr. B. M'Laughlan, for £280; that at the Dockyard, to Mr. M. Dunn, for £135; and that at Soldier's Point, to Mr. H. Perdrian, for £102. The Market Wharf—Lot 1, to Mr. Davis, at £10; lot 2, to Mr. M'Keon, at £14; and lot 3, to Mr. M'Keon, at £28: £82.

CLERK OF THE MARKET.—No fewer than twelve applicants have presented themselves for the office of Clerk of the George-street market.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]—UNPRECEDENTED CURE BY HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Thomas Symons, formerly of Chatham dock-yard, residing in Gravel-lane, Southwark, had been unable to do his work for three years. His lungs were supposed to be affected, having a distressing cough, with feet and legs swelling; besides which he could scarcely ever keep anything on his stomach, and was generally so weak and ill as to barely have power to stand, yet in three months this poor man acquired almost a new constitution by taking Holloway's Pills, and is now become so thoroughly strong and well, as to be able to undertake the laborious duties of a carpenter on board a vessel about sailing to New South Wales.

TOWNSEND'S CASE.—The case for the defence in this protracted trial terminated at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The reply of the Solicitor General lasted two hours. His Honor commenced summing up at half-past seven, and the Jury retired shortly before twelve. At two o'clock they sent word that there was no chance of their agreeing in a short time, and were ordered to be locked up for the night.

THE PRESS.—During the past year there were a great number of attempts to start new newspapers, but none of them got beyond the preliminary step of issuing a prospectus. Many months since we were amused by reading a printed proposal to establish a new daily paper, in which, if the figures were correct, it was clearly shown that the proprietors of the Sydney Morning Herald were making a clear profit of £14,488 a-year, and that by simply paying down £1000 into the hands of one "B." (who was to be heard of at the Post Office), the same splendid results would be attained by the proprietary of a new paper which "B." was anxious to establish. How it happened that no one availed himself of this tempting offer we are not aware; but upon congratulating our worthy friends the proprietors of the Herald upon having in the last seven years put by the nice little sum of £100,000, those estimable individuals declared their entire ignorance of the place of deposit, and upon our proving to them that they must have made the money, for there it was in print, they assured us that they had during their connexion with the Press seen many statements printed, the accuracy of which they had upon enquiry found to be very doubtful, and with respect to the very pleasing announcement which their kind friend "B." had made respecting themselves, they assured us that he had made a mistake often committed in prospectuses and puffs preliminary of putting down his expenses at less than one-half their actual amount, and adding fifty per cent. to the income, so that they rather expected that if the "New Daily" were started, the proprietors would not find quite £14,000 to their credit at the year's end. Whether there were any similar doubts upon the mind of the public we cannot say, but B. never got the thousand pounds, and consequently never removed the anonymous veil he had so modestly assumed—whether he would have done so if he had received the money is a speculation it is not worth while to enter upon at present. As the year advanced we heard distant rumours of a Grand Junction Daily Advertiser, of which several auctioneers were to be the principal proprietors, and allow themselves seventy-five per cent. discount on their advertisements, and they were all to have their own opinions advocated in a spirited manner: this was to be edited by a legal gentleman who is well known to be a perfect pyramid of learning, and by way of frightening all opponents, two gallant captains (one to be always on duty) were engaged to do the skirmishing and light work. We rather think that this scheme failed, because it was found that holding an auctioneer's license is not exactly a test of political opinion; and, therefore, while one wanted to commence the paper by showing that the only way to "save the colony," (saving the colony being always a main object with raw politicians if you are to believe what they say), would be to bring in a "Bill to give everybody everything;" a second thought that they must at once "make a stand" against the democratic principle which is so rapidly gaining ground; a third wished to show that the first squatter that reaches the Fitz Roy Downs with a flock of sheep will have the same right to the fee-simple of the soil that Queen Victoria has to Windsor Park, "the principle being the same;" but then a fourth had "sketched the heads" of an essay showing that the grasping monopolising squatters are ruining us, and that the colony can only be "saved" by giving every one a right to buy a squatter's homestead at eighteen-pence an acre. It being found impossible to advocate all these views at once (the "oldest paper in the Australian colonies" would, if applied to, have done it for them in a week) the grand junction was dissolved, and the paper never came out. The "dailies" having thus failed, some more humble attempts were made. The Evening Courier was announced, but no subscribers offering themselves, the announcement has been withdrawn, and the appearance of the Courier is postponed for the present. Then we had the Sydney Times, which was to be started on the proprietary principle, to be published weekly until arrangements could be made for issuing it daily, but as it is not coming out at present "for want of support," we suppose its daily publication may not be expected until after 1848. A very flaming prospectus of a paper to be called The Squatter was also issued, but the projector having put his name at the bottom, was quite sufficient to convince any person at all conversant with such matters that it would be an abortion; so beyond the publication of the prospectus (of a Sydney paper,) at Port Phillip, nothing has been done. Various other schemes have been started during the year, but have not been put sufficiently before the public to entitle them to notice. We believe therefore that the new year will commence without any addition to the colonial press; but we think it probable that there may be a decrease in the number of papers before it expires.

COMMERCE.—Yesterday's Government Gazette contains the copy of a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between her Majesty and the Grand Duke of Tuscany.

PETERSHAM RACES.

A REVIVAL of races at Petersham took place on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday last, and there is every reason to believe that the races just concluded have been such as will render the Petersham meet an established one, and that races will not as heretofore come off on this course at irregular and uncertain times; but that like other courses in the colony it will have its regular half-yearly meetings. The Stewards of the meeting did their duty admirably, and there does not appear to have been any complaint challenging the decisions of the awards in the various races.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our Correspondent.)

YASS.

ON Monday last, the Christmas festivities in our small hamlet commenced with a cricket match, between the Victoria and Yass Clubs, which was won by the former, after a sharply contested struggle, by an excess of thirty-two runs. The weather, although excessively warm, was delightfully clear, and the consequence was, that a numerous assemblage of the townsfolk and residents of the surrounding country, visited the ground as spectators of this manly and scientific amusement. In the first innings of each side, the contending parties strove hard for conquest, but the heat of the weather considerably relaxed their energies towards the close of the game; although the fielding to the last was very creditable to both sides. In the evening the Clubs met, and passed a social hour at Mr. M. Moses's, (the "Yass Inn,") where the utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed until a late hour, when the company separated, after another match having been agreed upon between the same parties for the following Monday. The following is the result of the game:—

A very large addition has also been made to the former extensive stock of French Velvet-napped Hats, and on such advantageous terms that they are now offered in every shape from 7s. 6d. upwards.

E. Mountcastle continues to manufacture the celebrated Ventilated Velvet-napped Hats so much admired for their fashionable shape, durability, and comfort to the wearer.

Men's and Boys' Cloth Caps, Gold Cord, Commissariat Lace, Cockading, &c. Trimmings supplied to the trade.

Country dealers will find great advantages in laying in their stocks at

VERANDAH HOUSE,
451, GEORGE-STREET,
NEARLY OPPOSITE THE COMMERCIAL BANK.

W. E. ROWLAND has just received, ex late arrivals, an extensive assortment of China, Glass, and Earthenware, of the newest designs and manufacture. His stock, which from these recent additions may now be with truth pronounced unrivalled in the metropolis, is daily open for inspection, and will be found to combine the useful with the ornamental branches of the trade, as may be seen from the following brief enumeration:—

Breakfast services, dinner services, toilet services, hot water plates, pudding basins, jugs, mugs, dishes, pie dishes; tumblers, cut, plain, and pressed, to suit housekeepers and publicans; which he is determined to sell, for CASH, on the smallest profits.

He has also the greatest variety of wine glasses, decanters, and carafes, cut and plain.

Settlers and country storekeepers will do well to favour him with a call, as his stock will be found equal in quality, and the prices as reasonable, as those of any other house in the trade.

All orders punctually attended to, and every care taken in packing.

Sydney, December 18. 9760

HOCKIN'S PREPARATION OF SEIDLITZ, in one bottle, will keep in every situation. It is a solid Salt of a natural spring, and like it, tasteless. The dose can be apportioned to suit all ages and constitutions; a full dose acts as a medicine; a smaller forms a refreshing and pleasant drink, consequently it is used by surgeons for making the saline draught. Hockin's Patent Preparation does not (like the articles called Seidlitz powders) become a liquid in damp places, but on the contrary it is rendered more firm, and contains the necessary salt to feed the blood and system. It is a valuable family medicine being taken as freely by children as adults, and cannot disagree with or weaken the stomach in any climate. In bottles. CHAS. HOCKIN, 38, Duke-street, Manchester Square, and 1, Bishopsgate-street, Within, London; and by his agents in the Australian colonies, viz.—A. Foss, Dispensing Chemist, 111, Pitt-street, Sydney; Louis and Sons, Hobart Town; James Dowling, Launceston; and A. Scott, Adelaide. 7748

SOLILOQUY (not CATO'S).

Rest in thy band-box, venerable Hat,
For Oh! I cannot wear thee any more;
The nap has left thee, and thy brim is flat,
And all thy useful servitude is o'er!

Thou'st been a faithful servant to thy master,
And much do I regret to part with thee;
Thou'st sav'd my "top" from many a sad disaster,
Which claims a debt of gratitude from me.

I've always found in thee a friendly shelter,
When drops of rain have trickl'd down my nose;
Or when the hail has pepper'd "helter skelter,"
Or when my coat was feather'd with the snows.

Oft has thy beauty pleased the quizzing ladies,
And made them view me as a tasty chap;
Thou art a proof what Deacon's Hatting trade is,
And long thou'st been a feather in his cap!

Farewell, dear Hat! it grieves me much to part,
Yet one thing cheers me: I can get another!
Deacon forsooth has hundreds at his heart.
Farewell! I'll go and bargain for thy brother.

C. S. DEACON has reduced the prices of his much approved velvet nap Paris Hats, viz.—
First quality, reduced from 20s. to 18s.

CHRISTOPHER NEWTON AND BROTHER beg to thank their kind friends and supporters for the increased amount of patronage bestowed upon them during the past year, and from the still increasing trade and the large assortment of goods on hand, they are determined to reduce their stock as much as possible, to make room for fresh importations.

C. N. and B. wish their customers to bear in mind that they are constantly in the receipt of choice new goods from their English buyers —that their stock is allowed to be the best assorted in New South Wales—and that the old terms of cash and no abatement are strictly adhered to. Settlers will find this the place were they ought all obtain their supplies, as every requisite for the bush is to be had at the lowest price, and of a quality superior to that usually supplied to them.
